

Curriculum Vitae

Attila Grandpierre

I am an astrophysicist, writer and speaker, recently retired senior research fellow of Konkoly Observatory (1974-2014) with a Ph. D (1984). My fields of research include solar physics, astrobiology, theoretical biology, biosemiotics and philosophy. I published 10 popular science books, more than 70 research papers and 400 popular articles and essays. I am the member of editorial boards of international scientific journals:

- NeuroQuantology. An Interdisciplinary Journal of Neuroscience and Quantum Physics, and
- World Futures. The Journal of General Evolution

I had been the Director of the Collective Consciousness Group of the Club of Budapest founded by Ervin Laszlo. My discoveries on the dynamics of the solar core have been confirmed and reported in New Scientist in the January 25, 2007 issue. In 2009, I organized the “Astronomy and Civilization” <http://www.konkoly.hu/AC2009/> international conference in Budapest, co-chaired with Paul Davies. In 2011, I was invited to work as a visiting professor at the Chapman University, Orange, CA for half a year.

Books in English:

- Astronomy and Civilization in the New Enlightenment, eds. Tymieniecka, A.-T. and Grandpierre, A. Analecta Husserliana, Springer, 107: 19-36, Springer, 2011.
- The Helios Theory. A New View of Life and the Sun, with the recommendation of James Lovelock (Publisher is needed)
- Living Universe – The Scientific Foundations of Spirituality (Publisher is needed)

I am also a musician playing cosmically inspired music. I produced 11 CDs, some of which are released also in Germany, USA, Netherland and Finland. I am also an internationally recognized musician reviving ancient, cosmically inspired folk music. I sing in cultic music groups VHK (aka Galloping Coroners) and Vágtázó Csodaszarvas (Galloping Wonder Stag). I have produced 11 CDs, some of which are released in Germany, the USA, Netherland and Finland. In 2013, one of the most popular international magazines wrote: “Hungarian polymath Attila Grandpierre is a freethinking genius in an increasingly conformist world”. I published three poetry books. I frequently present talks on international scientific conferences as well as conferences on consciousness and spirituality. In 2012, I won the prize “Parallel Cultures”.
